Reflections for Thirty Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

The context for today's Gospel continues to be mounting tension between Jesus and the Jewish authorities. In the first part of today's Gospel, we hear Jesus warn the crowds not to follow the example of the scribes in seeking honor and attention from others. It is important to recall that Mark indicates that Jesus taught these things while in the vicinity of the Temple in Jerusalem.

Jesus then observes how Jewish pilgrims are making their contributions to the temple treasury. The Temple in Jerusalem was the center of Jewish worship in the time of Jesus. It was expected that observant Jews would make pilgrimages to the Temple to offer prayer and sacrifices. Pilgrims were also expected to make a financial contribution to the temple treasury.

As we would expect to be the case, Jesus observes that those who were rich contributed large sums to the treasury. Those with less means made smaller contributions. A similar situation exists in most of our parishes as well. Jesus calls attention, however, to a poor widow who makes the smallest of contributions—two coins of little value. Jesus upholds the poor widow's offering for his disciples' consideration, commending her because her small offering was an act of profound generosity, giving from her livelihood rather than her surplus.

To give from our livelihood is not only an act of generosity, it is also an act of trust in God. We can only give from our need if we trust that God will provide for us. Jesus himself demonstrates the ultimate act of generosity and trust in God as he gives his life for us on the cross. Loyola Press

NEXT WEEKEND THERE WILL BE TWO COLLECTIONS. PLEASE PLACE YOUR REGULAR WEEKLY ENVELOPE IN THE FIRST BASKET AND THE ENVELOPE FOR MAINTENANCE & REPAIR IN THE SECOND BASKET.

You may remember Brittany Maynard, the 29-year old newlywed whose widely covered story of diagnosis with inoperable brain tumor and prognosis of 6 months to live, moving from California to Oregon to take advantage of that state's infamous "Death with Dignity" law. Despite the pleas of many people, including Catholic seminarian (now transitional Deacon) Philip Johnson who suffers from the same affliction, Brittany took her own life on November 1st of last year using a doctor-prescribed treatment.

Some people had described this act as one of bravery, in which a young person ended her life on her own terms. However, the Church expresses serious concern of this standpoint: "Everyone is responsible for his life before God who has given it to him. It is God who remains the sovereign Master of life. We are obliged to accept life gratefully and preserve it for his honor and the salvation of our souls. We are stewards, not owners, of the life God has entrusted to us. It is not ours to dispose of. Suicide contradicts the natural inclination of the human being to preserve and perpetuate his life. It is gravely contrary to the just love of self. It likewise offends love of neighbor because it unjustly breaks the ties of solidarity with family, nation, and other human societies to which we continue to have obligations. Suicide is contrary to love for the living God" (Catechism of the Catholic Church, paragraphs 2280 and 2281).

Of course, no one asks to suffer and suffering in itself is not a good thing. However, the value of human life is something beyond any possible price as a most special gift from God. If we or someone we love finds themselves in such a situation, either physically or psychologically, we are called by Christ to follow his example of true courage in the face of death: the way of the Cross, which can ultimately offer salvation to all brave enough to walk it. Yes, at such times we make use of all reasonable means for palliative care, but also we do so with recognition and respect for the ultimate dignity of our lives as seen in the light of God.

During the month of November, it has been customary for the Church to remember those who have gone before us and our hope grounded in faith that they now enjoy the fullness of God's love. This provides the basis of the inestimable value we place on human life and its Creator. It is all the more imperative to defend this sanctity of life by noting that, since last year, Brittany's home state of California has joined Oregon, Washington and Vermont in having so-called "Death with Dignity" laws on their books. For Brittany, and all those who have made such a choice, we commend to God's love and mercy. As the Church also says: "We should not despair of the eternal salvation of persons who have taken their own lives. By ways known to Him alone, God can provide the opportunity for salutary repentance. The Church prays for persons who have taken their own lives" (Catechism, 2283).

RCIA CORNER

THE YEAR OF MERCY

The logo and the motto for the Year of Mercy are a fitting summary of what the Jubilee Year is all about. The motto Merciful Like the Father (taken from the Gospel of Luke, 6:36) serves as an invitation to follow the merciful example of the Father who asks us not to judge or condemn but to forgive and to give love and forgiveness without measure (cfr. Lk 6:37-38). The logo which is the work of Jesuit Father Marko I. Rupnik – presents a small summa theologiae of the theme of mercy. It represents an image important to the early Church - the Son taking upon his shoulders the lost soul demonstrating that it is the love of Christ that brings to completion the mystery of his incarnation culminating in redemption. The logo has been designed in such a way so as to express the profound way in which the Good Shepherd touches the flesh of humanity and does so with a love with the power to change one's life. One particular feature worthy of note is that while the Good Shepherd, in his great mercy, takes humanity upon himself, his eyes are merged with those of man. Christ sees with the eyes of Adam, and Adam with the eyes of Christ. Every person discovers in Christ, the new Adam, one's own humanity and the future that lies ahead, contemplating, in his gaze, the love of the Father.

The scene is captured within the so called mandorla (the shape of an almond), a figure quite important in early and medieval iconography, for it calls to mind the two natures of Christ, divine and human. The three concentric ovals, with colors progressively lighter as we move outward, suggest the movement of Christ who carries humanity out of the night of sin and death. Conversely, the depth of the darker color suggests the impenetrability of the love of the Father who forgives all. (Jubilee of Mercy site). On December 8, 2015 we will begin the Jubilee Year of Mercy, let us with one voice announce mercy by the love we show each other!

The rectory office will be closed for regular business on Wednesday, November 11th in observance of Veterans Day. The office will reopen on Thursday at 8:30 AM.

AI-ANON

Are you troubled by someone's drinking? AI-Anon members are people just like you and me-people who have been affected by someone else's drinking. They are parents, children, spouses, partners, brothers, sisters, other family members, friends, employers, employees, and coworkers of alcoholics. AI-Anon is anonymous, the meetings are confidential, and we do not disclose whom we see or what we hear at meetings to anyone. Many who come to AI-Anon are in despair, feeling hopeless, unable to believe that things can ever change. We want our lives to be different, but nothing we have done has brought about change. In AI-Anon, members share their own experience, strength, and hope with each other. You will meet others who share your feelings and frustrations, if not your exact situation. We come together to learn a better way of life, to find happiness whether the alcoholic is still drinking or not. If you would like more information, join us at 7:00 pm in the Church Auditorium or call Ann at 732-861-9051 or annern508@comcast.net.

THE NECESSITY OF SHARING

Over a thousand years ago, a saintly Christian made the following comment: "If a man were given all the material things of the world, all the cattle, lands, lakes, he would be unhappy unless he could share them with someone he loved." (St. Aelred) .

When one thinks about sharing seriously, the likelihood is that one will come to understand that sharing is an absolute necessity. Especially if we are to have good spiritual and mental health. God has made us to give, to share. It is part of loving. It is part of what brings inner joy. It is surely one of the reasons that Jesus said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." (Acts 20:35) Giving does as much, often even more, for ourselves as it does for the people and good causes we support. Think about that when the offering is taken during worship. Think about that when you have an opportunity to share your God given resources with legitimate charities or someone who desperately needs a handout and a handup.

Then enjoy the blessings you will receive in return
