The Fourth Sunday in Lent

The parable Jesus tells in today's Gospel is unique to the Gospel of Luke. Jesus has been teaching the crowds as he journeys to Jerusalem. As he teaches, the Pharisees and scribes complain and challenge Jesus because he is welcoming sinners at his table. Today we hear the third of three parables that Jesus tells in response to his critics. These three familiar parables—the lost sheep, the lost coin, and today's parable of the prodigal son—invite us to consider the depth of God's mercy and love.

The Pharisees taught a scrupulous observance of Jewish Law. In their interpretation and practice, observant Jews who shared table fellowship with sinners would be made unclean. Like Jesus, the Pharisees hoped to lead sinners back to God. The Pharisees, however, required that sinners first become ritually clean—observant of the Pharisees' interpretation of Jewish Law—before sharing table fellowship. This appears to be one of the major differences between the Pharisees and Jesus. Jesus reaches out to sinners while they are still sinners, inviting them to conversion through fellowship with him. Jesus is God acting among us; by befriending us, he is inviting us to return to friendship with God. Through friendship with Jesus, our sins are forgiven and we, in turn, bear fruit for God. Recall last Sunday's Gospel and the barren fig tree.

Our familiarity with today's parable risks dulling us to its tremendously powerful message. We call this the parable of the lost son or the prodigal son. Any focus on the younger son, however, must also be balanced by an examination of the unusual behavior of the father.

First we must imagine our first response to the audacity of a son who asks for his inheritance before his father has died. Indignation would certainly be a justifiable response to such a request. Yet the father in this parable agrees to honor the son's request and divides his property among his two sons. How might we describe such a father? Foolish comes to mind, but so does trusting. Without property of his own, the father must rely upon his sons to provide for his well-being.

The younger son takes his inheritance and leaves home. The older son remains, continuing to provide for the father and the household. Having been disgraced by the younger son, the father spends some time watching the road for the return of the lost son. When he eventually sees his wayward son returning, the father not only welcomes him but also runs out to greet him and then honors him with a party. We say that this father is loving and forgiving. Yet these adjectives only begin to describe the depth of love and mercy that characterize the father.

We find no surprise in the anger of the older son. Yet the father appears sad and even confused by the older son's indignation. He says in reply that they should celebrate because the lost son had returned. The father is filled with gratitude and love for the older son's faithfulness. This love is in no way diminished by the father's rejoicing at the return of the younger son. Yet the older son's jealousy reveals his limited understanding of the depth of his father's love.

The Fourth Sunday of Lent is traditionally called Laetare Sunday. Laetare is a Latin word that means “rejoice.” Today's Gospel describes the reason for our joy: God's great love for us has been revealed in Jesus. Through his Passion, Death, and Resurrection, Christ has reconciled us with God and one another. Loyola Press

MARCH 6, 2016

FROM THE DESK OF

Fr. Jim O'Neill

HOW IS LENT GOING?

As the first word of the entrance antiphon says, we "Rejoice" even in the middle of Lent. But how can we rejoice when Lent is a time of penance, fasting, and almsgiving? Are we rejoicing because Lent is more than half over, and we won't have to keep giving up what we've been giving up? Rather, our Lenten practices are for preparing for the great celebration of the Easter Triduum. We sacrifice so that we might draw closer to God as we draw closer to Easter.

Consider that on this Laetare (Rejoice) Sunday, the priests and deacons may wear rose colored vestments. Rose (or pink) is the color of the sky before the sun rises. We rejoice because we are anticipating the rising of the Son.

We can look at the natural element of light in order to better see (with the eyes of faith) that supernatural light God shines on us. Next Sunday, we will spring forward our clocks by one hour so that we may enjoy sunlight for one hour longer in the evening. We can already notice that the days are getting brighter, and we're looking forward to warmer weather with sunlit days.

It's supposed to be like this with supernatural light. How we're doing this Lent or where we are in the spiritual life will have an impact on how we experience supernatural light.

Let's consider how we experience natural light. Suppose we're in a dark cave. The bright lights immediately go on. Even though we're immersed in light, we're blinded and tortured. What if we're inside our homes with the lights on? We can see everything satisfactorily. We see some of the dirty places and clean them. Now suppose we've gone to a park on a bright sunny day. The natural setting leaps out at us in all its splendid glory. The setting is vibrant. We feel fully alive.

Let's make an analogy to Hell, Purgatory, and Heaven. If God's supernatural light was experienced in Hell, it would be blinding and painful. In Purgatory, it brings to light our imperfections that need to be cleansed by God. In Heaven, we see God face to face in all his glory. We see our neighbors more beautifully and wonderfully than ever before.

While on the way to the Father's house, we can experience God's supernatural light in similar ways. If we are attached to a particular sin that we choose not to give up, the light upon the sin is blinding and tortuous. If we are entering into the Lenten practices, we experience some pain when we see that we need God's mercy. Yet, we rejoice because He is making us more alive as we say, "Yes," to him. At the celebration of Easter, we will rejoice even more as we are even more immersed in God's light and love.

THE ANNUAL CATHOLIC APPEAL – IN ACTION!

MINISTRY OF CATECHESIS, LAY FORMATION AND EVANGELIZATION

Each parish and Catholic school is unique and offers religious education in ways that meet the needs of over 50,000 students in the local community. Some program structures are very traditional; others are innovative. About 300 adults are brought to full initiation with the Church in our diocese each year. Many opportunities for the enrichment of faith are found in events and activities in parishes throughout the diocese, such as Bible Study, parish missions, lecture series, and online learning. These ministries help with adult faith enrichment by providing support for parish leaders and access to resources. Your gift, in essence, builds up our Catholic faith. These programs along with our website, radio and TV, social media and The Monitor reach out to 830,000 Catholics yearly.

LENT INSTRUCTION

The days of fast and abstinence are ASH WEDNESDAY AND GOOD FRIDAY.

The other Fridays of Lent are DAYS OF ABSTINENCE.

Those between the ages of eighteen and fifty-nine are obliged to fast. By this obligation, the individual is permitted only one full meal a day.

At the age of fourteen, people are obliged to abstain. This obligation prohibits the eating of meat, but not eggs, milk products or condiments of any kind, even though made from animal fat.

Missing abstinence on any one (1) Friday is not a serious sin. Missing abstinence most of the Fridays of Lent (or more than half of them) is a serious sin that needs to be confessed & absolved.

The obligation of receiving the Eucharist at least once a year should still be fulfilled during the period from the First Sunday of Lent, February 14, to Trinity Sunday, May 22. However, the Code of Canon Law does permit this precept to be fulfilled at another time during the year when there is a just cause.

PALM

With Palm Sunday just around the corner, some of you may be wondering what you should do with last year's palm once you receive this year's. There will be a basket for Palm in the narthex of the church. You may drop off your old Palm to be burned at this year's Easter Vigil.

The Diocese of Trenton is committed to the initiatives outlined in the US Bishop's Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People and to its own policies and guidelines in regard to the reporting and investigation of sexual abuse allegations involving minors. If you have been sexually abused as a minor by a member of the clergy or anyone representing the Catholic Church or if know of someone who was, you can report the abuse through the diocesan ABUSE HOTLINE: 1-888-296-2965 or via e-mail at abuseline@diocesoftrenton.org. The Diocese of Trenton reports any allegations of sexual abuse to the appropriate law enforcement agencies. Anyone with an allegation is also encouraged to provide that information to the local enforcement authorities.

HELPING OUT

Lent is more about just repenting of our sins; it is about being transformed and in the process transforming others. One way we can do that is by serving our parish. This could be something that changes our parish, our community and our world. Alone we can do good things, but together we can do great things. Everyone can be reached at the parish office, just dial 732-477-7059 and then dial their extension. See the list of Ministries and Organizations at the end of the bulletin for opportunities:

THOUGHT FOR FOURTH WEEK OF LENT

By now we are well on our way in our Lenten practices becoming holy as He is holy. Preparing our hearts by penance and charitable works. St. Paul tells us we are created anew, our hearts are not merely set right, but we are a new creation; we are God's masterpiece. Let us make certain we are acting like it.

RCIA HOSPITALITY

I want to take just a moment to give you some thought about why we do what we do. Today I am talking about our half hour social refreshment time we do before the sessions begin whether it be RCIA sessions or Adult Confirmation. Preparing people for a sacrament takes more than creating and presenting a teaching. It first takes making them feel comfortable with us, with the place, with the format. It takes being present for people; sharing our own stories and life events. It means letting them ask questions and trying to answer their questions. Gathering the information we need from them to proceed in a suitable manner. It all takes time and patience. We can do that when we socialize first with them. Socializing is important. Some say socializing should be 50% of your life (we are only doing it for a ½ hour). Humans are social-creatures. It is very difficult for us to survive on our own unless we form common bonds with others who share your same hopes and dreams.

We provide a half hour of refreshments, not just to feed them, but to let them have some “down time” with us and each other. A lot can happen over a cup of coffee and a donut. They can get to know each of us and each other and to bond. We open up and share more readily with people we know and care about. Also the likelihood of friendships forming is greater. It is much more comfortable for them to share their faith, attend Church or a Church event with a friend. It will help in getting them to return after their sacraments. After all we are not looking to just sacramentalize them but to foster a conversion in each and every one.

Jesus showed us how to form disciples. He ate and drank with them to show us that this was important. He shared all he was with them, but first they ate. When he called the tax collector, he went to his house for dinner. This is what we too are called to do.

God did not just choose us alone. He chose us to be in community. We develop community by sharing ideas and by joining together with others who have the same principles and values. We need that half hour of fellowship and food to get to know each other and share our stories and to take care of any business (like do I have all the Baptismal/Sponsor Certificates and such).

So we are learning as a team to be comfortable with that half hour as we use it to make a better connection with our participants. This half hour is in attached to our program; it is the beginning of the program and not just added “fluff.” It will assist them on their journey to conversion.

One thing that is missing in completing our RCIA/Adult Confirmation Ministry is someone to prepare these refreshments for us. In requires that you arrive before 4:00 pm Mass on Saturday, set up the coffee and put out the other accessories. If you would be willing to serve on just one Saturday a month please contact, Dale Zanetti, at the Adult Faith Formation Ministry at 732-477-7059 ext. 214 or dale@visitationchurch.com.

ROSARY ALTAR SOCIETY

The next meeting of the Rosary Altar Society will be Monday March 7. As always we will meet in the Church Worship Space at 11:30 to recite the Rosary. The meeting will begin at 12:00 in the Parish Hall. Remember the Rosary Mass is Sunday March 6 at the 8:00AM Mass. See you there.
