"YOU ARE MY INHERITANCE, O LORD"

The Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

In today's Gospel Jesus begins his journey to Jerusalem. We read that Jesus' days for being "taken up" were fulfilled. We also read that Jesus is determined to journey to Jerusalem. For Luke, Jesus ministry begins in Galilee and then is one long journey to Jerusalem. In Jerusalem he will meet his death but also enter into his glory. It is in Jerusalem that his disciples wait after his Ascension to be sent the Holy Spirit on Pentecost.

Immediately Jesus is met with rejection, as a Samaritan village will not receive him because he is going to Jerusalem. There was animosity between Samaritans who worshiped on Mount Gerazim and Jews who worshiped in Jerusalem. James and John want to call down fire from heaven to destroy the people in the village, but Jesus rebukes them and moves on. There is often the temptation to use violence to achieve right. Jesus has come to break this temptation. He is aware that he must undergo violence himself before he can enter his glory.

The rest of today's reading is about the radical demands of discipleship. The three people who volunteer to become disciples on this journey show that they do not understand the demands Jesus will make of them. Neither care of self, care for the dead, nor care of one's family (as required by the Fourth Commandment) can come before the demands of discipleship. Jesus reminds the first volunteer, who would go wherever Jesus goes, that animals in the wild have more security than do Jesus and his followers. The second, who wants to bury a parent, is reminded that the demands of proclaiming the Kingdom of God take precedence. And the third, who wants to say farewell to his family, is reminded that once you put your hand to the plow you cannot look back or the furrow will be crooked. Such a person is not ready for the Kingdom of God.

Jesus seems harsh here, but he is only asking of his disciples what he asks of himself. Jesus' unconditional commitment to God's saving work will demand of him his life Jesus does not want anyone to rush into discipleship, because the demands of discipleship require everyone considering it to be aware of the cost, make Jesus and his mission central to his life, and then go forward without looking back.

Reflections for

On this first official weekend of summer, as we attend graduations and weddings, beginning our plans to “wind down” for vacations, let’s also remember to take a moment to pray and energize ourselves in the work of evangelization, a work of which we are never supposed to take a vacation.

In Pope Francis’ 2013 Apostolic Exhortation Evangelii Gaudium, Latin for “The Joy of the Gospel” (and in which the word “joy” is used 109 times), the call for evangelization – the spread of the Good News in the Gospel – is done best not only by words, but also by joyful example.

If we have joy, then we can’t help but naturally and spontaneously share our faith, in the same way that one would want to share anything that we are passionate about. The solution that the Pope proposes, most fundamentally, is that every Catholic, in a genuine and personal act, turn once again to Christ and, “unfailingly each day,” ask Christ to be with us as a friend. Our Holy Father even suggests the words one might use: “Lord, I have let myself be deceived; in a thousand ways I have shunned your love, yet here I am once more, to renew my covenant with you. I need you. Save me once again, Lord, take me once more into your redeeming embrace” (EG 3).

This weekend we will see a marvelous example of this joyful witness as this year’s diocesan Missionary Cooperative Plan representatives, the Servants of the Plan of God, tell us about the work they are doing through the villages of Huambo in the African nation of Angola. I firmly believe that hearing this witness is crucial for us today. As horrific reports continue to come with astonishing rapidity from places such as Orlando FL, San Bernadino CA, Charleston SC and others, we may wonder how peace can ever be found in today’s rapidly eroding society. Hearing from the sisters how Jesus comes to people in such terrible material poverty (and how we can help them in this effort) can also be a key to helping us bring that same Jesus to people in own own culture, a nation immersed in a terrible spiritual poverty. Listening to how others do this can energize us and renew our own efforts in bringing the light of Christ to those in darkness!

RCIA CORNER

FORTNIGHT FOR FREEDOM

One example of how our freedoms are being violated: Several states have recently passed laws that forbid what the government deems "harboring" of undocumented immigrants—and what the Church deems Christian charity and pastoral care to those immigrants. Perhaps the most egregious of these is in Alabama, where the Catholic bishops, in cooperation with the Episcopal and Methodist bishops of Alabama, filed suit against the law: all must defend the right to the free exercise of religion granted to us as citizens of Alabama. . . The law makes illegal the exercise of our Christian religion which we, as citizens of Alabama, have a right to follow. The law prohibits almost everything which would assist an undocumented immigrant or encourage an undocumented immigrant to live in Alabama. This new Alabama law makes it illegal for a Catholic priest to baptize, hear the confession of, celebrate the anointing of the sick with, or preach the word of God to, an undocumented immigrant. Nor can we encourage them to attend Mass or give them a ride to Mass. It is illegal to allow them to attend adult scripture study groups, or attend CCD or Sunday school classes. It is illegal for the clergy to counsel them in times of difficulty or in preparation for marriage. It is illegal for them to come to Alcoholic Anonymous meetings or other recovery groups at our churches.

As Catholics, we are obliged to defend the right to religious liberty for ourselves and for others. We are happily joined in this by our fellow Christians and believers of other faiths. Religious liberty is not only about our ability to go to Mass on Sunday or pray the Rosary at home. It is about whether we can make our contribution to the common good of all Americans. Can we do the good works our faith calls us to do, without having to compromise that very same faith? Without religious liberty properly understood, all Americans suffer, deprived of the essential contribution in education, health care, feeding the hungry, civil rights, and social services that religious Americans make every day, both here at home and overseas.

What we ask is nothing more than that our God-given right to religious liberty be respected. We ask nothing less than that the Constitution and laws of the United States, which recognize that right, be respected. (USCCB)

EXCUSED FROM MASS DURING VACATION

This is actually a common and unfortunate misconception. As Catholics we are expected to attend Mass every Sunday and other Holy Days of Obligation. One primary reason for attending Mass is to receive Jesus' Body and Blood. That's not just an obligation but an amazing gift. The Church doesn't want us to miss an opportunity to meet with Christ for any avoidable reason.

However, going to Mass at a local church can be a fun way to experience the local customs of places we visit. While the Mass itself doesn't change, parishes may have different ways of greeting visitors, singing different hymns or even offer hospitality after Mass that can help you get tips for places to visit while you are there. To find the nearest Catholic Church anywhere in the United States, go to www.parishesonline.com or www.masstimes.org.

"Give, and it will be given to you. Good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, will be put into your lap. For with the measure you use it will be measured back to you." Luke 6:38
